Saxton Temperance Society Addresses Letters to

THE JUDICIAL CANDIDATES

Replies of S. J. N. Poor and John Wesley Huff—Resolutions Adopted Endorsing Mr. Huff.

The following communications, one addressed to the Democratic and Republican candidates for Associate Judge by the committee of the Saxton Temperance Organization, and the replies of those candidates, which led to the endorsement of Mr. Huff in resolutions, are self-explanatory:

Letter to Candidates

Saxton, Pa., Sept. 20, 1909.

Dear Sir:—The temperance people of every section of the county are asking "Where are we in the 'No License' campaign?" From every quarter it reaches us and as the original organization of the county to press the "No License" issue, we are expected to lead the way to a satisfactory solution of the problem.

To do this intelligently and fairly we have decided to address a few questions to the candidates and upon their answers to said questions base our recommendations. As one of the candidates for Associate Judge we send this communication to you: 1st. Will you, if elected to the office of Associate Judge, interpret such election as a remonstrance by the voters against the granting of all liquor licenses in the county?

2nd. From the moral and legal standpoint will you consider this vote as sufficient to justify you, as a judge, to refuse to grant all such licenses?

3rd. If, in addition to this vote, you will require remonstrances to back you in the discharge of this duty; will you require a majority of the voters or citizens of the borough or township from which an application is made, or will you use your right under the law to refuse such licenses as are remonstrated against by any considerable number of people of character and standing in the community?

Our one interest is "No License" in Bedford County, and the feeling of doubt and uncertainty that is now wide spread can be replaced by a feeling of assurance and confidence. To satisfy a legitimate demand and give certainty to our campaign we address you this letter.

An early reply is requested and such reply will be considered in the nature of a public declaration.

Very truly yours,

E. L. Eslinger,
F. W. McGuire,
Paul B. Rupp,
Aug. Troutman,
Elmer Oler,
Jas. Blackburn,
Committee Saxton
Temperance Organization.

Reply of Mr. Poor

Sept. 22, 1909.
Mr. C. L. Morningstar and Others,
Saxton, Pa.

Gentlemen:—Yours to hand and contents considered. My position today on the "No License" question is just the same as it was when I was with you last spring and will be just the same if elected Judge. I thought when I was with you last spring in your temperance meeting that I defined my position on the "No License" question to the satisfaction of all. What more could I say or what more could you expect?

Now in addition to what I have already said I will add that I will go as far as any man in Bedford County dare go without violating the law or my solemn oath. Could any man, or men, that want to be reasonable ask more?

I enclose you a few copies of statement on which I was nominated, as dictated by S. E. Nicholson, Supt. of the Anti-Saloon League of Penna., from the Brooks Law.

I look at character a great deal more than numbers. I hope this will be satisfactory. Kindly yours,

S. J. N. Poor.

Reply of Mr. Huff

Saxton, Pa., Sept. 25, 1909.
To the Committee of the
Temperance Organization,
Saxton, Pa.

Gentlemen:—I have received your communication dated September 20th requesting me, as a candidate for Associate Judge, to answer certain questions relative to the license issue. I do this cheerfully for I have tried to do all I could to make plain my position on the "No License" question. I will answer your questions by number.

1st. Yes. After the open campaign I made I certainly shall believe that all who vote for me protest, by that vote, against the further granting of license in this county.

2nd. Yes. As I understand the law it permits the Judges to grant or refuse to grant any or all applications for license. It is the prerogative of the court either to grant or to refuse.

3rd. While I consider the Judges have the legal right, with or without remonstrance, to grant or refuse to grant any or all licenses, as long as the law requires the Judges to "consider the applications for license having due regard for the number and character of those petitioning for and against such license" the privilege remonstrating ought to be considered.

BEDFORD PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Report for First Month Ending Friday, October 1.

The first month of the present term of the Bedford schools ended last Friday. Despite the fact that there were a number of changes in the teaching force, the schools were in session but a few days when all the machinery was running smoothly. Bedford was fortunate in securing the services of Prof. Garbrick and Prof. Hoechst to fill the vacancies in the High School, as also in filling the other vacancies with teachers of ability and experience. The end of the first month finds the schools in excellent condition.

PROF. J. M. GARBRICK

The increase of the High School term from eight to nine months was a move in the right direction, and will make possible, after this year, the classing of our advanced department as one of the first-class under the conditions prescribed by the State Department.

Let the teachers of all departments have the hearty support and co-operation of all patrons. By such support and co-operation our schools may be placed upon a plane that will enable us to point to them with pride.

Following is the report for the first month:

No. of female pupils registered to date	234

MACHINE'S HALCYON SESSION OF 1905

Boas Mansion Converted Into a "House of Mirth" in Harrisburg.

PARTY BOSSES PLAN INQUIRY

Senators Sisson and Stober, Republican Candidates, Supported All the Vicious Legislation That Made the Session of 1905 Infamous.

The legislature of 1905 was a "halcyon and vociferous" affair. In imitation of the Albany "House of Mirth," the Boas mansion in Harrisburg was generously contributing to the "gayety of nations" during that session. Under the control of the insurance commissioner it was a sort of kennel of "yellow dogs" of all sorts and conditions. Each night the gang assembled within its hospitable walls and planned and schemed the looting operations of the immediate future. It was the seat of revelry and a fountain of corruption.

The legislature of 1905 has gone into history as the most wanton and venal in the history of the state. Its work was so bad that Governor Pennypacker felt constrained to call it back to repeat most of its measures, and the men responsible for its iniquities obeyed orders to thus stultify themselves with the same servility that they accepted orders to pass the bills at the regular session. This feature of the legislature of 1905 has no parallel. No other legislature within the memory of man has such a record.

The legislature of 1905 was as eager to defeat good legislation as it was zealous in promoting bad. Few good bills got out of committee, and such as did were allowed to die on the calendar. Early in the session Senator Goehring, of Pittsburgh, introduced a bill providing for civil service tests in the selection of state officers, but it was stifled in the committee. Mr. Edmiston, of Bradford, introduced a bill requiring that anthracite coal offered for sale in the state be 95 per cent pure, and it met the same fate.

There were a good many other measures which would have conserved the interests of the people if they had been enacted into laws. But they were all killed before that stage, at which a roll call is in order, was reached. Under such conditions the action of a particular senator upon such bills is left to conjecture. But the managers of the dominant party were against such legislation or it would have passed. Senators Sisson and Stober invariably voted as the machine manager directed, and it is safe to say that they were against the bills that failed.

No Uncertainty on Vicious Bills.

But there is no uncertainty as to how the Republican candidates for auditor general and state treasurer voted on the vicious legislation projected and promoted by the machine. The bill to decrease the number of bank examiners, for example, was supported by both of them. Senate Journal, 1905, page 308.

One of the principal jobs of the session was the "act to amend an act relating to the board of public grounds and buildings." Upon this measure Mr. Sisson and Mr. Stober voted in the affirmative. Senate Journal, 1905, page 842. In vetoing this bill Governor Pennypacker said: "The effect of this bill, if it became a law, would be to authorize the board of public grounds and buildings to engage the services of 132 new employees. The amount of their salary and compensation, together with the increases of salaries and compensations of persons now employed, would amount to the sum of $216,960 for the ensuing two years." Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 158.

A bill to increase the number of courts in Allegheny county was voted for by both Sisson and Stober. Senate Journal, 1905, page 358. This measure was also vetoed by Governor Pennypacker, who said in his message: "The effect of this bill would be to increase the number of judges in Allegheny county from nine to fifteen and to lead to an expenditure in salaries alone of the annual sum of $51,000." Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 18.

Bills were passed providing for additional law judges in Cambria county. Senate Journal, 1905, page 888, and in Erie county. Senate Journal, 1905, page 492. Sisson and Stober voting for both of them.

The machine majority in the legislature is always open-handed with the judges, but during the session of 1905 it was liberal with everybody. A bill providing for stenographers and assistant stenographers for courts was passed finally on Feb. 23, Sisson and Stober voting in the affirmative. Senate Journal, 1905, pages 556-557. It was subsequently vetoed by Governor Pennypacker on the ground that "it would be an attempt upon the part of the legislature and the governor to exercise control over the courts." Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 24.

Corporations Favored Freely.

An act declaring valid and enforceable as to any right of escheat in this commonwealth was voted for by both Sisson and Stober. Senate Journal, 1905, page 821. This measure also

NIGHTS OF UNREST

No Sleep, No Rest, No Peace for the Sufferer from Kidney Troubles. No peace for the kidney sufferer—Pain and distress from morn to night.

Get up with a lame back, wings of backache bother you all day. Lacking breaks your rest at night. Urinary disorders add to your misery. Get at the cause—cure the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills will work the cure.

They're for the kidneys only—Have made great cures in Bedford. Geo. C. Stiffler, retired, W. Pitt St., Bedford, Pa., says: "The hardships I endured in the Civil War left me in a weakened condition and I began to suffer from kidney complaint. I had to arise many times during the night to pass the kidney secretions and this greatly interfered with my rest. My back ached severely and I was often crippled with rheumatism. I finally went to Dull's Drug Store, procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and obtained prompt relief. I am today in better health than I have been in years, which great improvement I know is due to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

fell a victim to Governor Pennypacker's veto axe. In his veto message the governor said: "To permit corporations, organized for reasons given above in other states, to hold real estate and do business here, would be in effect, to nullify, indirectly, our own laws. This bill presents to such corporations an easy means of escape from the disabilities imposed upon them." Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 30.

The legislature revealed its subservience to the railroad corporations in the passage of the act "in relation to railroads under lease, and saving their charters and franchises from forfeiture or impairment in case of failure of their lessees to maintain and operate any portion of their lines." This was a slimy and venomous legislative snake. It would have enabled big railroad corporations to get rid of any branch or troublesome small railroad at the trifling expense of the cost of leasing it. Under existing law failure to operate a piece of railroad for two years works the forfeiture of the franchise, and communities damaged by being deprived of railroad facilities to which they are entitled could build a new branch and connect with another road. But this bill would have given the big concern power to close up the smaller road permanently. It was passed by the senate finally on March 31. Sisson and Stober voting for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 850. Governor Pennypacker vetoed it. Vetoes of the governor, 1905, page 66.

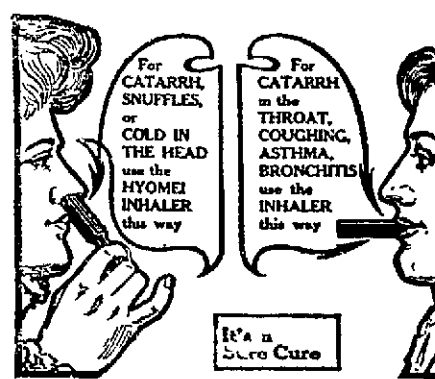

One of the most absurd bills considered during the session was one authorizing coroners in counties of population between 100,000 and 125,000 to employ stenographers at a compensation of $6 a day. Both Sisson and Stober voted for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1670. Fortunately it was vetoed.

Another legislative absurdity was a bill providing for the draining of swampy lands, and both Sisson and Stober voted for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1031. In vetoing this preposterous proposition Governor Pennypacker said that owners of swampy lands ought to pay the expenses of their own improvements, and that if the measure should become a law it would clandestinely bestow upon the owners of the land the right of eminent domain. Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 44.

A Ripper in Disguise.

The bill to provide for the employment and support of the poor in Schuylkill county was a sort of "ripper" in disguise. The obvious purpose of it was to legislate out of office the directors of the poor of that county and it only failed of its purpose because Governor Pennypacker had a lucid interval. Sisson and Stober voted for the bill. Senate Journal, 1905, page 897. Governor Pennypacker disapproved it because it deprived the people of their right to elect their own local officers. Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 52.

There were a number of water snakes wriggling through the legislative session of 1905. The machine managers, rich in spoils, had come to realize the vast value of water powers and were striving to get control of all that were available. The railroad corporations were also reaching out for control of watersheds and water supplies.

Among the bills introduced with this object in view was one "authorizing railroad companies to acquire, hold, dispose of and guarantee the stock and securities of water companies." In the event of a water famine this measure would enable the railroad companies to supply their locomotives even if the people of communities furnished Sisson and Stober voted to bestow this dangerous power on railroads. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1158.

The bill entitled "an act to preserve the purity of the water of the state" was another serpent. It provided that consent of the board of health should be obtained before any community or company could erect water works. The inquiry was fought with considerable energy and was supported at every stage by Sisson and Stober. On final passage, however, Sisson dodged the roll call, but Stober is recorded as voting for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 998.

The gang didn't feel quite secure with the legislation thus far obtained and Senator McNichol, the Philadelphia contractor-politician, introduced a bill to create a commission to regulate the water supply and control the watersheds of the state. This measure was railroaded through at a high rate of speed. It was "read in place" March 15 and passed finally March 22. Sisson and Stober both voting in the affirmative. Senate Journal, 1905, page 901.

Pet Iniquities of the Machine.

The Philadelphia "rippers" were pet iniquities of the machine. John Weaver, who had been promoted from the office of district attorney to that of mayor as a reward for permitting Sam Salter to be acquitted, was indulging in some insincere reform pretences and the machine concluded to "clip his wings," so to speak. The "rippers" provided for the election of the heads of certain departments by a vote of councils, which under the then existing law were appointed by the mayor. It might be said that this was "the crowning atrocity" of the session. There were three of these bills, numbered respectively 441, 479 and 480. The two latter were so vicious that Pennypacker vetoed them. Both were voted for by Sisson and Stober, however. Senate Journal, 1905, pages 1283 and 1284. It was in this veto message that Pennypacker eulogized the late Mr. Durham as "the most influential political leader in Philadelphia." Vetoes by the governor, 1905, page 167.

A merry little joker of the session was the bill increasing the salary of the deputy insurance commissioner. Mr. Durham was insurance commissioner at the time, but he was so busy managing the politics and "milking" the people of that city that he couldn't get to Harrisburg often than once in two or three months. The warrants for his salary had actually to be sent to him by mail. This absenteeism devolved a good deal of additional labor on the deputy, and Mr. Durham's servile slaves in the legislature naturally concluded that his recompense ought to be increased in the ratio that his burdens were multiplied. Sisson and Stober voted for the bill. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1689.

The Quay statue bill was "the apple of the eye" of the machine at the time and ever since has been the burden of its grief and an abomination Sisson and Stober both voted for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1589.

The act authorizing street railway, electric light and power, hotel and park companies to merge or consolidate, was a sort of tub to the smaller corporation whale. There are a number of men in the cities, tin-horn gamblers, thimble-riggers and other sorts, who go to the legislature or ply their vocations in the winter, and imagined that such a combination of powers would afford them splendid opportunities in the summer. These gentlemen proposed to legislate themselves into the chance. The bill was introduced and passed, Sisson and Stober voting in the affirmative. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1590. Pennypacker vetoed the bill.

Snakes In the Legislative Grass.

Another snake in the legislative grass was the bill authorizing manufacturing corporations to deal in goods and materials manufactured by others. It was in direct violation of the constitution, the spirit of the common law and the traditions of the country. Sisson and Stober voted for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 895. The bill was vetoed.

The bill to rebate taxes on forest lands, enacted during the session of 1905, was what the old-timers would call "a little thing" for the timber and tannery trusts. It provided for a rebate of 80 per cent of the taxes on scrub timber tracts for a period of thirty-five years. Before it was introduced the trusts had bought up practically all that kind of land in the state with a view of holding it for another crop got ripe and ready for the axe. Paying taxes on land during the period in which they were waiting would be expensive, and the always fertile-minded trust managers conceived the plan expressed in this law to escape the burden. These facts were pointed out clearly, but the trust agents stick together, and the bill was passed, Sisson and Stober voting for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1246.

The bill to increase the salary of the harbor master of Philadelphia was the payment of another installment of the machine obligation for the acquittal of Sam Salter. The then harbor master swore to all kinds of alibis and other things to justify the packed jury in voting to acquit the champion ballot-box stuffer, and the easiest way to reward him for his crimes was to increase his salary. The bill passed finally, Sisson and Stober voting for it. Senate Journal, 1905, page 1689. The acquittal of Salter has cost the state more than any other crime ever committed within its borders.

The number and salaries of employees of the state treasury were increased, Senate Journal, 1905, page 1106, and the number and salaries of the employees of the state library were increased during the session of 1905, Senate Journal, page 777. Sisson dodged the vote on the treasury increase, but voted for the library increase. Stober voted for both.

Pennypacker Provokes Foolish Bill.

In his veto messages Pennypacker was in the habit of poking fun at the legislature on account of the wretched grammar and other delinquencies in form and expression of the bills sent to him for approval. Finally the legislature passed a law providing for the appointment of a man to edit the bills and whip them into some sort of shape. Really the purpose was to provide a fat and eminently respectable job for some favorite political "lame duck," and Pennypacker's criticism inspired the idea and furnished the excuse. Both Sisson and Stober voted for the bill. Senate Journal, 1905, page 781. Another office of similar character was created during the session of 1909, both Sisson and Stober voting for it.

The lawyers of Pennsylvania are bearing testimony, every day, to their high appreciation of the learning, ability and fitness of C. LaRue Munson for a seat on the supreme court bench. Wherever Mr. Munson goes he is most cordially and enthusiastically received by lawyers. Even the partisan lawyer relaxes his prejudices when the question of putting a fit or unfit man on the bench confronts him. Mr. Munson fulfills the lawyers' ideal of a judge and the lawyers will express that fact at the polls this year.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET

Justice of the Supreme Court,
C. La Rue Munson of Lycoming County.

State Treasurer,
George W. Kipp of Bradford County.
Auditor General,
J. Wood Clark of Indiana County.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET

Associate Judge,
John Wesley Huff of Saxton.
Director of the Poor,
James B. Cessna of Rainsburg.
Jury Commissioner,
William Drenning of West Providence.

THE LOCAL DEMOCRATIC TICKET

The local Democratic ticket was fairly and honestly nominated by the Democrats of the county by popular vote at the recent uniform primaries and merits the support of the party. Each of the three candidates is well qualified for the place he seeks.

John Wesley Huff, the regularly nominated candidate for Associate Judge, came out practically on a no license platform and was selected as the candidate of his party by a large majority. The voters of the county know where he stands; there can be no mistake; he has again declared his position in a letter to the Saxton Temperance Organization, which letter is published elsewhere in this issue of The Gazette. It is a principle of Democracy that the majority shall rule and it was the majority of the Democrats of the county who caused his name to be placed upon the ticket as the Democratic candidate for Associate Judge.

For Director of the Poor James B. Cessna has again been selected as the Democratic candidate. He is a man possessed of integrity beyond reproach. In the office which he again seeks to fill he has discharged his duties faithfully and well and he merits the support not only of his own party but of all citizens who believe in and desire an economical administration of affairs at the Alms House. It is the part of wisdom to have the board of Directors of the Poor made up of members of two parties.

For Jury Commissioner, the Democratic nominee, William Drenning, is well qualified to fill the office. He is an esteemed and respected citizen and deserves to receive the unanimous vote of the Democrats of the county.

AFTER REYNOLDS' SCALP

The following editorial from Wednesday's Johnstown Democrat clearly indicates the direction of the breeze in Cambria, and is suggestive of the ebbing of the political tide of John M. Reynolds, the one-time free trade Democrat who came into control of the political organization of the Republican party of this county by treachery that cast over him a cloud that cannot be dissipated by the distribution of seeds, at the expense of the government, which is about the only thing he can lay claim to:

"It may be counted upon as a pretty sure thing that Ex-Senator Stineman is prepared to enter the race for Congress against the present member, the Hon. John M. Reynolds of Bedford, provided he is assured the support of Blair County, and this seems to be forthcoming. According to the rule of rotation Blair County is entitled to the Congressional honors this time. Indeed it was entitled to the honors two years ago, but Mr. Reynolds succeeded in inducing it to waive its claim and he walked away with a third nomination, one more than is usually accorded. But now it appears that Blair County is in no humor to bestow any further favors upon the Bedford statesman; and since it has no avowed candidate of its own it may take up the cause of Mr. Stineman and assist in retiring Mr. Reynolds to private life.

"There is this to be said about Mr. Stineman and Blair County Republicans. Mr. Stineman has always been pretty good to them and, judging from the tenor of editorials appearing in the Altoona newspapers, they are not disposed to forget the Stineman favors. When Blair County Republicans needed money with which to meet campaign emergencies they did not appeal to Mr. Stineman in vain. It is understood that he was not only always ready and willing to give, but that he gave liberally and at frequent intervals. And then Blair County Republicans are nursing the belief that a "turncoat" has been unduly rewarded for his abandonment of the Democratic party, which showered so many signal honors upon him, and that the time has arrived when a life-long Republican should get a look-in. And this may mean the undoing of the Bedford man. Still another significant fact may be cited in the rebellious attitude of Editor Walter Thompson of the Ebensburg Mountaineer-Herald. Mr. Thompson undoubtedly represents the views of a large number of northern Cambria Republicans when, speaking of Reynolds holding a seat in Congress, he editorially says, among other things:

"By the way, what right has the Bedford turncoat to a permanent occupancy of this office, or indeed, what claim did he ever have on it at all?"

"The Mountaineer-Herald professes to believe that Ex-Senator Stineman cannot only secure the support of Blair County for Congress, but that he can also carry a large number of votes in Cambria County and it intimates that Bedford County, if afforded an opportunity, would give Mr. Stineman considerable encouragement.

"Indeed it looks as if there is a pretty nice fight ahead, with the promise that the South Fork man and his big pile will be pitted against the wealthy and resourceful Bedford statesman.

An Enjoyable Event

A surprise party was given Mrs. John C. Smith last Friday at her home here in honor of her 22d birthday. Mr. Smith drove her to Woodvale to spend the day with her sister, Mrs. Sarah Lane, and not finding her at home they went to Coal-mont. Returning home about 7 o'clock she was surprised to find the house filled with friends and a bountiful supper prepared by Mrs. Cal. Foster, Miss Amelia Smith and Mrs. E. F. Anderson.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Satterfield and children, Mrs. Charles Bland and daughter, Mrs. David Bland and son, Mrs. Charles Fox and child, Mrs. William Foreman and children, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Figard, Mrs. R. J. Barton, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Figard, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chamberlain and daughters, Mrs. John Figard, Mrs. Mary Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Figard and children, Mrs. Wade Figard, Mrs. Homer Cromwell, Misses Vera and Nettie Barton, Mrs. Lizzie Stevens and son, J. C. Foster, wife and children, Mrs. Ellen Smith and S. W. Salkeld. The evening was spent in social enjoyment and the surprised received many valuable presents. All departed at a late hour, wishing the hostess many more happy birthdays. S. Six Mile Run, October 6.

LETTER TO WM. MINNICH Bedford, Pa.

Dear Sir: Clear pine and pine full of knots are two different things; they are both called pine.

Clear paint and paint adulterated with whitening, china-clay, ground stone, barytes, benzine and water, are different things; they are both called "paint."

It takes less labor to work clear pine than pine knots, and costs less money.

It takes less labor to paint clear paint than half-whitening or half china-clay or half ground stone or half barytes. These mixtures make more gallons, not more paint. There's no more milk in two quarts of milk-and-water than in one quart of milk. If you paint two gallons for one you pay double for labor; and labor costs more than paint.

You know how it is with clear lumber and knots. It's the same with all paint and half-paint.

A day's-work is a gallon of paint or half-paint. Apply it to business. Suppose you have two houses, same size; paint one Devco, the others the other prominent paint in your town.

It takes 10 gallons Devco, $1.75 a gallon, $17.50 for paint; $3 a gallon for labor, $30 for labor; whole job, $47.50.

It takes 15 gallons of that other paint, same price, $22.50 for paint; $3 a gallon for labor, $45 for labor; whole job $71.25.

And which wears best, clear pine or pine knots? Devco wears better than that weak paint.

What warrant is there for saying that paint is weak? It takes more gallons.

Yours truly,

LICENSE QUESTION

ered an obligation by all temperance people. So that while the court is free to act without remonstrance the hands of the Judges should be held up by large remonstrances of the leading citizens, both men and women. The character of the remonstrants would, have most weight but the Judges cannot always know the character of the signers of petitions. So I would like to be backed by the full expression of opposition in the form of letters and remonstrances. They ought to have great weight and influence with the court.

Trusting that these answers may fully cover the case and be entirely satisfactory, I remain,

Very truly yours,
(Signed) J. W. Huff.

Resolutions Endorsing Mr. Huff

At a meeting of the Saxton Temperance Organization held October 4th, 1909, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted, and Rev. K. L. Eslinger was instructed to send copies of them to the various county papers with the request that they publish the same.

Whereas, The main object of the Saxton Temperance Organization has been the nomination and election of a candidate for Associate Judge pledged to "No License" and whereas, Mr. J. W. Huff, the Democratic-Prohibition candidate, has given fullest and most satisfactory responses to our letter of inquiry sent to the leading candidates, and supplements this with a statement to the voters of the county defining his position over his own signature in such manner as to satisfy all believers in "No License" and an open campaign, therefore,

Resolved, First, That we as an organization rejoice that Mr. Huff has so clearly defined his position and that we reaffirm, with emphasis, our former endorsement of him as a candidate for Associate Judge.

Second, That our knowledge of his character, convictions, and determination is sufficient to convince us that if elected he will keep his promises in spirit as well as letter.

Third, That we invite all men of every creed and party who want Bedford County free from the licensed saloon to unite with us in supporting and electing Mr. Huff, and in doing this you can feel sure you are supporting a man who is true to the core.

Temperance Meeting

The Saxton W. C. T. U. met in the Methodist Church Monday evening, October 5, 1909. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. E. L. Eslinger. This being a public meeting many gentlemen were present, several of whom took part in the exercises. Spencer Shannon sang a solo, entitled "Just for Today," and John Moyle and son Walter a duet, "Home, Sweet Home." Revs. Eslinger and Rupp added very much to the pleasure of the meeting by instructive talks relative to the work on hand.

Our union is for "no license" only; nothing less than this issue can be accepted. No W. C. T. U. can agree to co-operate with any temperance organization which accepts any compromise on this vital point. Voters of Bedford County, see that your candidate expresses himself plainly as to his position—either license or no license—then vote as you pray.

THAT BUFFALO BILLS GAME

Manager of Ball Team Writes Concerning "Free-for-All Fight." To the Editor of The Gazette, Bedford, Penna.

My Dear Sir:—I have been requested by the leading citizens of this place to write and contradict what was said in your paper last week by the Buffalo Mills correspondent relative to the "free-for-all" fight which took place on the baseball ground on Saturday, September 25.

On the date mentioned 32 young people, including several ladies, came across the mountain from Centerville to have a game with our baseball nine. The game was called at 1:30 o'clock and in the meantime the victim, C. C. Dibert, came on the ground at three different intervals, first riding horseback, second walking around taking snapshots of the crowd and third driving in his runabout. No attention was paid to him however, and everything was going smoothly when, at the most interesting point in the game, the catcher was struck on the finger with a ball, bursting it open and causing a very painful injury. He (the catcher) walked direct to Dr. Brant, who was standing some distance away, to have his hand dressed. While Dr. Brant was bandaging his finger the victim hurled insults at him and finally drew a revolver and made serious threats; he was at once overpowered and relieved of his gun, and everything was about quieted down when he called a lady on the grounds a liar and her husband took up the cause.

There were between 150 and 200 people on the grounds, and I am not only certain, but positive, that everyone, with the exception of six or seven, will coincide with what I have said. Yours very truly,
H. M. Elder,
Mgr. B. B. Team.

F. W. Jordan, Druggist, Guarantees a Relief from Dyspepsia. If the Remedy Fails It Costs Nothing.

To unquestionably prove to the people that indigestion and dyspepsia can be permanently relieved and that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will bring about this result, we will furnish the medicine absolutely free if it fails to give satisfaction to any one using it.

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is due to the high degree of scientific skill used in devising their formula as well as to the care exercised in their manufacture, whereby the well known properties of Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with Carminatives and other agents.

Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin are constantly employed and recognized by the entire medical profession as invaluable in the treatment of indigestion and dyspepsia.

The Pepsin used in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is prepared by a process which develops its greatest efficiency. Pepsin supplies to the digestive apparatus one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid, and without it the digestion and assimilation of food are impossible.

The carminatives possess properties which aid in relieving the disturbances and pain caused by indigestion. This perfect combination of these ingredients makes a remedy invaluable for the complete relief of indigestion and dyspepsia.

We are so certain of this that we urge you to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets on our own personal guarantee. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Bedford only at our store.—The Rexall Store. F. W. Jordan.

A SUCCESSFUL CONVENTION

Held in District No. 10—Need of a Temperance Review.

The District Sunday School Convention last Saturday in Trinity Reformed Church, District No. 10, was pronounced a decided success by all present and each went their way believing it was a day well spent and feeling glad they had been there.

A resolution of thanks and appreciation was voted by the visiting delegates for the fine dinner prepared by the ladies of the congregation in their homes and served at the church. They certainly deserve credit for the abundance and preparation of those things provided by the Heavenly Father for the sustenance of mortal man. We trust this was all done for the love of the cause for which the association is working, and that they will continue to manifest this love of the Sunday School work in some manner by identifying themselves with the work; if not as regular attendants in the school then with the Home Department when opportunity affords.

A few regrets were noted by some of those who took an active part in the convention. One was that only nine out of the sixteen schools in the district were represented and some of these very poorly; another was that no Temperance topic was contained in the program—so very important just at this time. These two are worth mentioning and in regard to the first will say there is some reason which should not be for not having all schools represented; lack of interest possibly in the county and district organization and their work, but the writer is inclined to think it is still more than that.

While all denominations in the district were represented, the fault is not there. This indifference appears to be only local, as we have noticed this more or less in all conventions, county and district, attended so far. There should be no prejudice or friction between sects in these gatherings as it tends toward the worship of sectarianism instead of Him who should be the great centre of all denominations and congregations of the Christian Church.

The young English divine, Rev. Hugh Black, who has become so prominent in our country as a student, teacher and preacher among the rising generation, among many other noble things says: "There is good everywhere and our highest aim should be to find it, join affinity to it, and to assist others in doing the same." He also says "The highest grace which we can attain is to be able to rejoice in the successes and victories of those working in other fields outside our own narrow channel, even to the extent of laying our own work aside at times and joining hands in bringing about these victories."

As to the main subject of this article, our Sunday Schools have all been studying a temperance lesson at the close of each quarter and as we have had no review of these lessons now would be a very good time to have a summing up, as we have had of the other lessons at stated times. While we are preparing to decide an issue that has baffled former generations, it might be well for us to do a little clear thinking. These temperance lessons bear not entirely on the free use of alcoholic liquors, but they have taught temperance in all things that pertain to our existence here.

We may sing "Onward Christian Soldiers," sing it well, sing it with force, with spirit and feeling, but besides singing it we must think it, act it, and temper our criticisms of our fellowman by it, make our decisions by it. For instance, Johnny comes home from school having been severely punished by his teacher. The parent listens to Johnny's side of the story and ridicules and criticizes the teacher for abusing his good-goddy little boy. Of course he does not know or believe that Johnny has been a very bad boy in school and behind his parents' back, but the school knew that Johnny needed all the teacher gave him as he had become almost incorrigible. The parent, I am afraid, by his indulgence and in-temperate decision and criticism of the teacher in Johnny's presence, has done the boy more harm than good.

Sunday School Workers Hold Sessions at Wolfburg.

The eighth district Sunday School Convention, held at Wolfburg Friday, October 1, was called to order by the President, H. D. Tate, Esq. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Albert S. Luring.

The first topic, "Why do we have Sunday School Conventions?"—in the absence of A. J. Shaffer to whom it had been assigned, was ably discussed by Humphrey D. Tate.

The topic, "How can Sunday School Superintendents help our conventions?" was handled by S. U. Troutman, and E. A. Hershberger spoke on, "What constitutes a good Sunday School?" The general discussion of these topics was entered into by W. S. Lysinger, J. J. Wolf, H. D. Tate, Rev. F. W. Biddle, and Rev. A. S. Luring.

After the discussion of "What are the qualifications of a good teacher?" by Rev. Luring the following officers were elected:

President, S. U. Troutman; Vice President, J. C. Zimmers; Secretary, J. Reed Irvine; Treasurer, Daniel E. Zimmers; Superintendent of Teacher Training Department, Rev. E. A. G. Hermann; Superintendent of Home Department, Martin L. Shaffer; Superintendent of Cradle Roll Department, Mrs. Viola Wolf.

The afternoon session closed with the singing of a hymn and the benediction.

Evening Session

The evening session was called to order promptly at 7:30, when prayer was offered by Rev. Biddle. After an address by the chairman and the taking of a collection, Rev. Biddle delivered an address on Temperance. County Chairman, William S. Lysinger spoke on "The benefits of the home and cradle roll departments to the Sunday School."

The committee on resolutions having reported and their report having been adopted, the closing address was made by Chairman H. D. Tate and benediction was pronounced. The discussions were interspersed with music.

E. A. Hershberger, Secretary pro tem.

Mrs. Caroline Egolf

As the sun sank to rest when his day's work was finished the pure, sweet spirit of Mrs. Caroline Egolf took its flight beyond this vale of tears to the city eternal.

Mrs. Egolf was the daughter of John and Catherine Mowry and was born near New Buena Vista on February 18, 1827, and lived at the same place the greater part of her life.

She was married to Solomon Egolf who preceded her to the Great Beyond many years ago, as have also two sons. Two sons—John of near Mann's Choice and H. Pierce of near Schellsburg, and one daughter, Miss Annie, who is a helpless cripple, unable to walk, owing to an attack of rheumatism many years ago, and to whom the sympathy of the entire community is extended in her sorrow.

Mrs. Egolf was a member of the Reformed Church for the period of sixty-three years. Several months ago she was stricken with a fatal illness and from the first expressed the wish that she might join those loved ones gone before. Her wish was realized Friday evening, September 24, 1908, having lived to the ripe old age of four-score years and two. Funeral services were held from her late home in New Buena Vista Sunday morning, September 26, conducted by her pastor, Rev. C. Gumbert, after which interment was made in the Schellsburg Cemetery.

Reformed Ministerium

At the regular monthly meeting of the Reformed ministers of the county at the National House Monday afternoon a paper on "The Sign of Jesus" was read by Rev. J. A. Eyer of this place, and a book review by Rev. P. E. Rupp of Saxton on "Back to Christ." Rev. A. R. Bartholomew, D. D., of Philadelphia was present and made a short address.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Rev. J. A. Eyer; Secretary and Treasurer, Rev. J. C. Knable of Rainsburg.

John W. Dobson and Wife Married Fifty Years.

On October 4, 1859, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dobson, of near New Paris, were united in marriage. To them were given six sons and four daughters: George L. and Charles B. of Stoyestown; William S. and Irvin J. of New Paris; Lemon J. of Windber, Josiah, deceased; Elizabeth, Mrs. George Hoover, and Mollie E., Mrs. F. W. Cuppett, of Johnstown; Margaret, Mrs. S. W. McMullen, of Windber; and Lillie, Mrs. John Dagutes, of Homer City.

On Sunday this aged couple were taken by surprise when all their children (except Mrs. Hoover) and the following friends met at their home in commemoration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary: Mrs. George L. Dobson and daughter Elizabeth, F. W. Cuppett, S. W. McMullen, John Dagutes, Mrs. Charles B. Dobson, Mrs. Lemon J. Dobson, and Mrs. John Burket (sister of Mrs. Dobson) and husband, N. F. and J. H. Burket; Mrs. F. S. Wise and daughter Kathleen and W. T. Burket and wife, of Bedford; Mrs. Daniel Burket and daughter Cleo, of Steckman; Mrs. Elizabeth Gephart (sister of Mrs. Dobson), George W. Burket, wife and daughter Dena, of New Paris; Mrs. Elizabeth Brubaker, Frank D. Baker and wife and William Widdersheim, of Johnstown.

A gift of golden coins was made up by the children and friends. The aged father and mother were requested to appear as they did at the bridal altar fifty years ago, when one-half the offering was presented to the father by the eldest son, George L., and the other half to the mother by the eldest daughter present, Mrs. F. W. Cuppett.

The many visitors, as well as the aged parents, expressed themselves as having enjoyed a pleasant time together. October 3d was also the 27th anniversary of their youngest son, Lemon J.

Hershberger-White

Anson Hershberger, a prominent young business man of Saxton, and Miss Ethel White, daughter of the late T. W. White, also of that place, were married in Philadelphia on Friday, October 2. They returned home on Sunday and Monday evening were given a serenade by the Reliance Band. A reception was held in their honor Wednesday evening of this week. The Gazette joins in the congratulations of their many friends.

Rally Day at Hopewell

Sunday, October 3, was Rally Day for the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School at Hopewell. Large audiences greeted the school. The program was repeated in the evening. The exercises were interesting, consisting of singing by the school, solos, recitations, Scripture readings and addresses. The decorations were tasteful. Too much credit cannot be given the worthy superintendent, B. H. Painter, and his corps of helpers for the training of the children and the success of the occasion.

ECKHARDT.—At Claysburg on October 4, John D. Eckhardt, aged 79 years; formerly of St. Clairsville; survived by wife and several children.

Residents of cities of the third class, have one more chance to register. On Saturday, October 16, the registrars will sit at the several polling places, in such cities, and voters may then and there register. Every Democrat residing in a city of the third class should avail himself of the opportunity to qualify himself to vote for our admirable ticket if he has not already done so.

The people of Philadelphia are getting ready to give the machine managers a lesson on day. Unless the school are misleading the close of the polls on Tuesday evening, November 2d, will mark the opening of an exodus of political criminals from that city that will purify the political atmosphere of the whole state.

That the Democrats will carry Pennsylvania this year is as certain as any future event depending upon human action can be. The city of Philadelphia will give a majority to all the Democratic candidates, both on the state and local tickets and every county in the state will show a Democratic gain.

Every Democrat can get his own vote to the polls and most Democrats can get one or two of his neighbors or friends to go to the polls and vote the ticket. If every Democrat does his best, therefore, the majority for the ticket this year will be vastly greater than that for William H. Berry four years ago.

PUBLIC SALE

On Wednesday, October 13, at 2 p. m. there will be offered at public sale a building lot on Sunny Side and a pasture lot immediately south of same, the sale to be on the premises. Terms cash.

Last Friday evening our little village was startled by the cry of fire, which was discovered in the attic of Robert Reninger's summer house. The flames spread so rapidly that it was impossible to get anything out of the building. Had it not been for several men working on the road nearby, the heroic efforts of our women, and the wind being favorable, the dwelling house and barn would both have been destroyed.

Mrs. Reninger was baking and it is supposed the stove pipe became unjointed.

It seems that our items last week contained an error in regard to the wedding of Curt Wolfe and Miss Etta Ferguson. Nowadays a person hears so much that it is only safe to believe what you know to be true, and then tell nobody about it. We hope the parties will not be offended, as the writer gave it just as received.

Defiance

October 6—The moving season is on in full blast at this place; all because Prof. Edwards and Mr. Gracey left our town. Prof. Edwards resigned his position as principal of our High School to accept a position as supervising principal of the schools of Duncannon. This was followed by Norman Gracey moving to Roaring Spring. Next, James Howells moved into the house vacated by Prof. Edwards, and George Christner moved into the house vacated by Mr. Howells. Gilbert White moved into Mr. Christner's house and James McCavitt moved into the house vacated by Mr. White. This reminds one of the old adage, "For want of a nail."

When Mr. Gracey moved out of his house Harry Eisenhart moved into it, and we understand that Charles Wise will move into the house vacated by Mr. Eisenhart. Where that chain will end the writer is unable to say.

The teachers of Bedford County, who met him and who had learned to know him, will be sorry to learn of the resignation of Prof. Edwards. The patrons of the school are also sorry, but since he has served us faithfully for six years, and as we had nothing better to offer him, we unite in wishing him success in his new position.

Prof. E. Wilber Long of Hagerstown, Md., took charge of our High School last Monday morning as successor to Prof. Edwards. He comes to us well recommended and judging from what we have learned of him and from what we have seen of his work, we predict for him a successful and pleasant term of school.

Rev. Eslinger of Saxton delivered an able temperance address before the United Mine Workers' Local Union last Tuesday night which was well received. The Six Mile Run Cornet Band furnished several selections of music. There seems to be a strong temperance sentiment among the miners of Broad Top.

The Broad Top Educational Association will hold their

Making Money On the Farm

XV.—Locating and Planting the Orchard

By C. V. GREGORY,
Author of "Home Course in Modern Agriculture"
Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association

EVERY farm should have at least a few fruit trees to provide fruit for home use. Where soil and climate are favorable and a good market can be secured fruit growing for market is a very profitable business.

The most important point in planning an orchard is selecting the location. The land should be naturally well drained if possible. If not, artificial drainage should be resorted to. A moderate northeast slope is the most desirable. Trees on a north slope do not start as quickly in the spring, and the danger of having the fruit buds nipped by an untimely frost is lessened. An orchard on such a slope also suffers less from sun scald and drought.

If the hill on which the farm buildings are placed is large enough the orchard can be located on the north slope and the buildings on the south. A windbreak of a double row of evergreens on the west and north will stop the snow in winter and help to keep the fruit from being blown off in summer. To complete this protection the windbreak will have to be extended all the way around, since in summer many of the heavy winds come from a southerly direction.

Air Drainage.

The question of air drainage is fully as important as that of water drainage. Cold air is heavy and drains rapidly into the hollows, while the air on the slopes is warm and dry. The difference of a few feet in elevation often makes a difference of several degrees in temperature. An orchard located on a rise of land will escape many of the frosts that cut down the profits in an orchard less favorably located. Trees on a hill are also less likely to be troubled with fungous diseases, since dry air is not favorable to them.

A soil too rich in nitrogen promotes leaf and wood growth at the expense of fruit. For this reason black prairie soil is not so well adapted to fruit growing as some other lands. Loamy clay soil underlain by a porous subsoil makes an ideal foundation for an orchard. Cleared timberland is also very good.

You cannot expect success with an orchard if you plant the trees in a hole in the sod. The land should be put in to some cultivated crop for at least a year before setting out the trees. This gets the soil in good tilth, and the trees will have a fair chance from the start.

What to Plant.

Having decided on the location for the orchard, the next step is to select the kinds and varieties of fruit to be grown. The apple is the most widely grown tree fruit in this country. It has hardy varieties that can be grown well up into the northern sections,

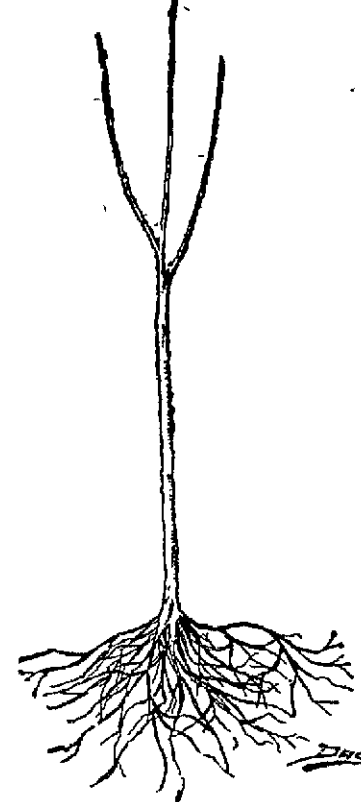

FIG. XXIX.—THIRTY YOUNG APPLE TREE. While other varieties are adapted to southern conditions. The plum is even more hardy than the apple, and some of the improved varieties give as delicious fruit as could be asked for. Cherries are also fairly hardy, and a few trees are a valuable addition to any orchard. In the milder sections peaches and pears can be added to the list.

The question of variety is one that must be answered for individual conditions. The old standard varieties are the most reliable. Varieties that are already doing well in your locality can be depended on. Your state experiment station or horticultural society will gladly furnish you a list of the varieties that are adapted to your locality. One mistake often made in setting out an apple orchard is in planting too many summer and fall varieties. These are of little value for market; they do not keep well and are largely wasted unless they can be canned or dried. Since the development of cold storage some of the Serious results from piles can be avoided if the right remedy is applied at once. But it must be the right remedy—Manzan. You apply Manzan not on the surface alone, simply to soothe irritation, but to all the affected parts by means of the nozzle attached to the tube in which Manzan is put up. Sold here by Ed D. Heckerman.

Most women are troubled with Kidney complaint, and you know very many serious and even fatal diseases result from these neglected Kidney troubles. If you will take DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills as directed, you may be confident of good results. Try them and see how really good they are. better keeping varieties, such as Wealthy, can be kept nearly all winter. Not all farmers have ice or are located within reach of a storage warehouse, however.

It will generally pay to put a large part of the orchard into reliable winter varieties. For home use apples are appreciated more along toward spring and will bring a higher price.

An important point to consider in selecting varieties is quality. This is especially important in those grown for home use. When the fruit is to be shipped any considerable distance, shipping and keeping qualities are of first importance, and the eating and cooking qualities take a secondary place. Yield is also important.

Buy at the Home Nursery.

In buying fruit trees it is best to steer clear of agents with plausible stories of wonderful quality and yield. Some nursery agents are honest and conscientious, but so many are not that it is difficult to separate the sheep from the goats. The best way is to make your selection of varieties and then get the trees of some reliable nurseryman in your own locality. If you can go to the nursery and buy them of the nurseryman himself so much the better. In that case you can select the trees yourself and be sure of getting good ones. Thrifty one or two year old trees, with well developed root systems, stand transplanting better and are cheaper than larger ones.

As soon as the trees are received from the nursery they should be "heeled in." This is done by digging a trench and covering the roots and about half of the tops with dirt. When the trees have been shipped for some distance it sometimes happens that they are frozen when received. In this case they should be placed in some outbuilding, covered with straw and left to thaw out gradually. In this way little harm will be done.

Preparation for Planting.

The land should be deeply plowed before planting and well disked and harrowed. It is a good practice to make the back furrows where the rows are to be and the dead furrows between the rows. The dead furrows will thus serve as ditches to carry off surplus water. It is better to do this plowing in the fall if the preceding crop can be got off the land in time. In the south the planting may be done in the fall also, but in sections where the ground freezes to any depth it is safer to plant in the spring. Fall planted trees are liable to root killing during the winter. In the drier parts of the country, too, the roots do not get sufficient moisture to supply the trunk and branches, and the tree is so badly dried out during the winter that it is killed.

In lands with a stiff subsoil running a subsoil plow down the row before planting is practiced with good results. In extremely hard soils a little dynamite exploded in the bottom of the hole loosens up the subsoil considerably. The hole should be dug larger than the roots of the tree and the soil thrown in around the roots. The roots should be well spread out and the tree set three or four inches deeper than it is to be finally. By taking hold of the top and churning it up and down after the roots have been covered with dirt the soil will be thoroughly worked in around the roots. As the tree is worked up and down it is gradually raised to the proper height.

Part of the top should be cut off before planting. The top is dependent on the roots for its moisture supply. A considerable part of the root system has been lost in transplanting, and the top should be cut back to match. In planting one or two-year-old trees, known as "whips," this cutting back serves a double purpose by causing the tree to throw out branches, just below where it is cut off. In trees of this kind the cut should be a few inches above where the first branches are to be.

There is considerable difference of opinion concerning the proper height to head apple trees. Low headed trees are much less liable to sun scald since the branches shade the trunk. They are easier to spray, and the apples can be more easily gathered. There is also much less damage from large branches being broken off by the wind. The chief objection to low heading is that it is difficult to get near the tree when cultivating the orchard. This objection, however, is hardly enough to outweigh the advantages of low heading.

If the soil is firmly packed there is little need of using water in the hole when planting trees. The dirt should be packed very firmly around the roots. Get in with both feet and pack it as hard as possible. It is a good plan to lean the trees a little to the south in order that the branches may shade the trunk better and also because the hardest winds in summer are usually from a southerly direction.

The standard distance apart for apple trees is thirty-two to forty feet each way. Plum and cherry trees may be as close as twenty feet. Apple trees are often planted 16 by 32 feet, the alternate rows being of some early bearing, short lived variety. When the latter trees come into bearing these fillers should be cut out.

DEFEAT AMENDMENT NO. 7 IS URGENT DUTY

Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce
Sounds Alarm to Voters.

POINTS OUT STARTLING DANGER

City Gangsters Could Manipulate Election Results, Through Corrupt Election Officers, If the Seventh Amendment is Adopted.

Defeat of amendment No. 7, of the series, of constitutional amendments on which the people of Pennsylvania are to vote this fall, has been called for by the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce.

It is the fear of the Chamber of Commerce that amendment No. 7 will allow political schemers to gain control of city election boards for crooked purposes. Should this particular amendment be adopted, it would open the way for the naming of such boards in the city by appointment instead of by election. That change undoubtedly would serve to make election boards more corrupt and to multiply ballot frauds.

In a public statement the directors of the Chamber of Commerce say:

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburg would respectfully call attention to the following matter of vital importance to the citizens of Pennsylvania, and one worthy of the most careful consideration and action by the electors of the state.

By joint resolution of the senate and house of general assembly of Pennsylvania, passed at the session of 1907, a number of amendments were proposed to the present constitution of this state. Among them are the following:

"Amendment 7—To Article VIII, Section 14.

"Section 8. Amend Section 14 of Article VIII, which reads as follows:

"District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen annually by the citizens. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector, and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected and vacancies in election boards filled as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony or crime of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service."

"So as to read:

"District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen biennially by the citizens at the municipal election; but the general assembly may require said boards to be appointed in such manner as it may by law provide. Laws regulating the appointment of said boards may be enacted to apply to cities only; provided that such laws be uniform in their operation to the same class. Each elector shall have the right to vote for the judge and one inspector and each inspector shall appoint one clerk. The first election board for any new district shall be selected, and vacancies in election boards filled as shall be provided by law. Election officers shall be privileged from arrest upon days of election and while engaged in making up and transmitting returns, except upon warrant of a court of record, or judge thereof, for an election fraud, for felony or for wanton breach of the peace. In cities they may claim exemption from jury duty during their terms of service."

This proposed amendment will be submitted to the voters at the election this fall for approval or rejection. If approved, it becomes a part of the state constitution, and must be observed as such, unless eliminated by a future constitutional amendment. Inasmuch as the constitution cannot be amended more than once in five years, this proposed amendment would have considerable time to operate before it could be replaced or superseded by another.

The amendment is surrounded by a multitude of other proposed amendments, which divert the mind from its purport, and it is only by close reading that its meaning and mischief become clear.

Only forty-eight words seek to change the practice respecting selection of election boards for almost a century, and to destroy the first foundation of the people's political freedom. These words are so obscure and the amendment so sandwiched between others of more or less harmlessness, and placed with such cunning in the proposed amendment itself, that only a close reading reveals the true purport of the change.

The proposed amendment first purports to leave the constitution just as it is respecting the selection of election boards. It begins by repeating almost the exact words of the same section of the present constitution, viz.: "District election boards shall consist of a judge and two inspectors, who shall be chosen biennially (instead of annually) by the citizens at the municipal election." A hasty reader would overlook the meaning of what follows. For the last part of the proposed amendment is similar to the paragraph on the same subject of the present constitution. It is as follows: "But the general assembly may require said board to be appointed in such manner as it may by law provide. Laws regulating the appointment of said boards may be enacted to apply to cities only, provided, etc."

It leaves the cities in a worse condition than the country districts, for by its provisions the country districts may be left in full enjoyment of their ancient privileges, while the cities may be deprived of them, with city and country may be legislated into the merciless hands of the political party in power, either or both at the will of the majority. It is doubtful if such a piece of legislation was ever proposed before to a free and intelligent people.

A Gun Must be Shot Every Minute

One of our mammoth guns must be shot every minute to supply the call for Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice.

For, last month, these foods were served for seventeen million meals.

We ask you tomorrow to surprise your folks, and have one of them served on your table.

When you see these crisp, gigantic grains, you'll not wonder that people like them.

Puffed Wheat—10c

These are the foods invented by Prof. Anderson, and this is his curious process:

The whole wheat or rice kernels are put into sealed guns. Then the guns are revolved for sixty minutes in a heat of 550 degrees.

That fierce heat turns the moisture in the grain to steam, and the pressure becomes tremendous.

Unbroken grains, puffed to eight times natural size—made four times as porous as bread.

Grains with every starch granule exploded, so the digestive juices act instantly.

Foods that are good—and good for you. Foods that the children like.

You are missing more than you know while you cling to foods not nearly so enticing as these.

Puffed Rice—15c

Then the guns are unsealed, and the steam explodes. Instantly every starch granule is blasted into a myriad particles.

The kernels of grain are expanded eight times. Yet the coats are unbroken, the shapes are unaltered. We have simply the magnified grain.

One package will tell you why people delight in them. Order it now.
